ATTITUDE OF GERMANY.

THE present attitude of Germany towards England, France and Russia is described in an editorial of the Berliner Tageblatt of September 14, which, after admitting that the German advance in the west has been checked, while considerable victories for the German arms have been obtained in the eastern theater of war, says:

"Europe is to be compared to the back of a cornered boar from whose sides the blood is streaming. We hardly speak of those of us who in the German colonies and in Kiao Chow are calling for help. We think of them, but do not speak for them."

"The English and French newspapers have recently said that the resolution of the powers that the Triple Entente not to make peace without consulting one another, had made a painful impression in Germany. We hope that this understanding between Messrs. Grey, Poincare and Iswolsky surprised nobody here. Those who think calmly knew this before the first cannon shot was fired. But this formal assurance was merely made to show us the futility of this war and our successes in France."

"The indications in the French press are that the declaration was also intended to quiet the French people. We are at war with France because, in consequence of an impolitic alliance, and misled by intrigues, it was brought to the side of Russia. But we are principally concerned with the reduction of Russia. In her direction we see a diminution and weakening of a giant and the making of guarantees—the moral idea of this great war and the grand goal for which, if necessary, we will continue to fight for twenty years, even in spite of the fact that since the days of Lemberg we do no longer underestimate the magnitude of the task."

RAG MONEY AD LIBITUM.

TWENTY-ONE years ago the Democrats rejected the free and unlimited coinage of silver. At the same time the voters of the United States gave James B. Weaver, father of the Greenback or "Rag" party 1,027,329 votes. Today the Democratic party stands for free and unlimited circulation of fiat money without the backing of either gold or silver, and the next congress may go to the extent of authorizing the issuance of currency on cotton warehouse receipts. When it comes to the south the present administration is there with the goods, while the west is given to understand that its wants are not of an urgent order.

At this stage of the game it is time for some one to rise and inquire what disposition the administration made of that silver purchase bill about which Nevada patriots tried to make capital.

However, it is well to remark that rag money is an appropriate money for a party that has closed factories and opened poorhouses. Republicans need to be styled silk stockings because of their appearance of prosperity and affluence.

Elko reports the abandonment of a vast irrigation project for the reason that the men behind the movement could not induce owners of worthless lands to pool them at anything less than fancy figures. There is too much of this sort of business in Nevada and this may be cited as one reason for capital fighting shy of the state when approached with improvement projects to finance. They are willing to place their money where the people show some interest in home development.

As an evidence of the cost of road building in Nye county it may be mentioned that the last monthly reports show that two loads of sagebrush deposited on the Ely road cost taxpayers just $60. The sum of $1,500 spent last spring on the same road between Currant Creek and Blue Eagle would have been better applied had it been thrown to the small boys on the streets of Tonopah. There is not a trace of the improvement remaining to indicate where the money went.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATRE

At the Butler this evening will be shown four reels of pictures, including a Vitaphone drama, "The Hidden Letter," featuring Antonio Moreno, Norma Talmadge and Julia Swayne Gordon. It shows how a couple weave a strong story of marital infidelity. The woman who defends the wife's name after death wins the love which his wife failed to gain. Also a Gaiety comedy, "The House That Went Crazy," and a Kalem drama, "A Mother's Attraction." Tomorrow, "Perils of Pauline," episode No. 13. Friday, "American Yeoman," in two reels. Episode 13th of Pauline is the most exciting and interesting that has ever been shown.—Adv.
